D.O No L-13011/1/2023-AS

25th September, 2023

Dear colleague,

Ayurveda Day, vide Resolution published in Gazette of India, Extra ordinary Part I dated 01st June, 2017 is officially celebrated every year on the auspicious day of 'Dhanwantari Jayanti - Dhanteras' since 2016. This year, it falls on 10th November, 2023. Since last three years, with the initiatives taken by PMO, it is being celebrated as the program of Government of India with a whole of Government approach.

In the recently concluded G20 Summit, all the Member States unanimously adopted the G20 declaration which recognized and acknowledged the potential of evidence based Traditional Medicine Practices in Public Health Delivery Systems. The Declaration emphasized on 'One Health' approach while addressing various health aspects including nutrition.

In alignment with the cognizance of G20 on Traditional Medicine and the theme of India's G20 Presidency, 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' the focal theme for Ayurveda Day-2023 has been decided as 'Ayurveda for One Health' with Tag line 'Ayurveda for every one on every day' i.e. 'हर दिन हर किसी के लिए आयुर्वेद' - focusing on human-animal-plant-environment interface.

The notion of 'One Health' is not new, it refers to the ancient times when Acharya Charaka had proclaimed the phenomena of "universe-individual continuum" i.e., 'universe within oneself and individual within universe' and the influence it has on balancing the people-planet ecosystem. Ayurveda is not just the traditional system of medicine, it is the way of life, which addresses wellbeing of non living things like environment, rivers, soil, weather etc., as well as all living beings including Human, Animals, Aquatic life and plants. The Ayurveda advocacy has included thousands of edible herbs, which are easily accessible in forests or in rural area depending on the Geo-climatic variation. Many of the dietary practices followed in tribal pockets have high nutritional value and are cost effective but are not known to urban population. Ayurveda in the form of ethno- medicine is commonly used in veterinary practices in rural India. The National Medicinal Plants Board under Ministry of Ayush has developed cultivation techniques of more than 110 plant varieties which have high market demand.

Dear Nitesh,

I am writing this letter to bring attention to the critical issue of water conservation and the imperative need to honor the contributions of women in this domain. Water, as we all know, is fundamental to life and the sustenance of ecosystems. However, many of our water bodies are under threat due to pollution, littering, and other forms of degradation. In light of this, it is essential that we recognize and celebrate the efforts of those who have dedicated themselves to the cause of water conservation.

2. Ministry of Jal Shakti has been implementing "Jal Shakti Abhiyan: Catch the Rain" (JSA: CTR) campaign to nudge the States and stakeholders for conserving rainwater. The fifth in the series of JSAs viz. JSA: CTR 2024 has been launched on 09.03.2024 with the theme "Nari Shakti se Jal Shakti". It will be implemented from 9th March, 2024 to 30th November, 2024, covering the pre-monsoon and monsoon seasons. It will encompass both urban and rural areas across all districts in the nation. In the current year, JSA:CTR - 2024 envisages implementation of three sub- themes i.e. 'Celebrating Women for Water', 'Respect for Water' and 'Paramparik Paani Bachao Parampara'.

3. In the sub-theme "Celebrating Women for Water," one of the action points is to initiate a drive aimed at collecting 100 stories of women who are actively engaged in conserving water within their respective communities over the next 100 days. These stories will later be compiled into a comprehensive compendium.

4. In this context, you are requested share stories featuring women fighting for water conservation. These stories can be sourced from various platforms, including podcast series speakers. By sharing these narratives, we not only enrich the pool of potential candidates for naming water bodies but also ensure that deserving individuals are duly acknowledged and honored.
